Oakland Housing Authority Celebrates
Seventy Years of Affordable Housing

Anniversary Event Celebrates Housing Milestone, Brings Community Organizations and Oakland Families Together for a Day of Education and Fun.

WHAT: Oakland Housing Authority 70th Anniversary Housing Resource Fair, where 50 organizations representing the gamut of services that residents of affordable housing might utilize in the areas of youth development, education, health care, housing development, homeless services, credit counseling, employment, legal services, public agencies, community organizations, and senior services. A full performance program by local talent is also scheduled.

WHEN: May 17, 2008
10 a.m. – 2 p.m.

WHERE: Laney College, 900 Fallon Street, Oakland, Calif.

WHO: The Housing Resource Fair is hosted by the Oakland Housing Authority (OHA) and East Bay Housing Organizations (EBHO), and sponsored by Goldfarb & Lipman, LLC, JUV Construction, Lukate Construction, Wells Fargo Bank, Eagles General Construction, High Tech Construction, Merritt Community Capital Corporation, Chris Plumbing, Banker's Life and Casualty, Chipman Corporation, and Accel Employment Services.

WHY: As the oldest affordable housing provider in the East Bay, OHA is partnering with EBHO to celebrate its 70th Anniversary in conjunction with EBHO's Affordable Housing Week. The event will provide community organizations and Oakland families with an opportunity to dialogue, to be entertained, informed, and supported, and to celebrate the Authority's accomplishments over 70 years.
